2020 has been an unprecedented time to be a small business owner. With a global pandemic, civil unrest, and natural disasters, the curve balls small business owners have had to deal with has been like nothing we have seen in recent history. But business owners in Iowa are strong and we know they are working hard to move forward. Our local Main Street program in partnership with Main Street Iowa, Main Street America and the Rural Ideas Network are excited to offer a new service now available to YOU—our local small business community—The Small Business Lab. This online service allows you to talk to business experts virtually about a wide range of topics that you deal with every day as a small business owner. You can schedule a session at a time that works for you—at no cost. Check it out by clicking on the link below:

ABOUT US

Main Street Iowa is excited to partner with Main Street America and the Rural Ideas Network to create this small business coaching platform. This service will help connect local Main Street district small businesses with experienced small business coaches in a virtual, request-based, and on demand relationship. The intent of this partnership is to expand Main Street Iowa's business assistance and further support the economic recovery of Main Street Iowa districts.

Our Small Business Lab is offered thanks to a partnership with the Rural Ideas Network, a national nonprofit that helps spark growth in rural communities.
